OPEN MEETING OF EDUCATION BOARD.

Doors Open to Members of Press for First Time.

PETITIONS FOR INCREASED PAY.

Contract Let for New School House. Recommendations for School at Kohala—Inspector General Townsend Acts on Kanai—Minor Matters.

At a little after 2:30 p. m. yesterday the portals of the meeting room of the Board of Education were thrown wide open, and in addition to the members of the Board there entered into the forbidden sanctum reporters from the newspapers of the city who have long been knocking pleadingly at the door for admission. The sudden opening was somewhat of a surprise, but one not long to remain. The new state of affairs was adjusted peacefully and without even a flutter; the reporters were assigned comfortable places and the session of the Board of Education began with the following members present: President Cooper, Mrs. Dillingham, Mrs. Jordan, H. S. Townsend, J. F. Scott and Wm. A. Bowen.

The first business was the reading of the minutes of the last session, by Secretary Rodgers.

President Cooper announced the receipt of several applications for positions as teachers on the Islands, as well as others for increase in salary.

J. F. Scott recommended the extension of certificates of five well known and efficient lady teachers of Honolulu and gave good reasons for such recommendation. Unanimously adopted.

Inspector General Townsend reported that he had instructed Dr. B. D. Bond, school agent at North Kohala, to prepare the school house at Halawa for use in September. He had paid a visit to the place and found things in a pretty bad state. There were a great many children and the only schools at the place were private. Troubles had been increasing and the people began to clamor for the opening of a Government school. In accordance with the authority vested in him by the Board of Education Mr. Townsend gave orders for the reopening of the Government school at Halawa which was closed some time ago. Report unanimously adopted.

The Inspector General also made report that Rev. Massey of Waimea, Kauai, had been instructed by him to make immediate preparations for the opening of a school building in Mana, a building being recently offered by a citizen of the place for such use. Report unanimously adopted.

President Cooper read a petition from Lum Wing Yin to the effect that he be allowed to open a school for instruction in the Chinese language, on Hotel street, in the city of Honolulu. This was endorsed by a number of prominent Chinese merchants. Secretary instructed to inform Mr. Lum that he would not be allowed to open such a school unless it be for the instruction of children within the school age.

Applications for positions as teachers were received from Mrs. M. S. Goddard, Miss M. S. Venight and Miss Rosalie Rasmussen. Referred to the Committee on Teachers.

It was announced that the contract to build the four-room school house in Honolulu had been awarded to Mr. Heuss for the sum of $2,885. Board adjourned at 3:45 p. m.

Bill I. Due—Yes, very badly; but the electric company sent him a bill for the electricity he used up and he was shocked at the idea of his being charged with electricity.

Madrid schools are so bad that German residents of the city have united to establish a school where their children may obtain as good an education as in more civilized parts of Europe for a reasonable outlay of money.

NEW CHURCH FOR THE RAINY CITY.

Hilo Foreign Church to Have New and Commodious Quarters.

WORK WILL BEGIN SHORTLY.

Will Cost $13,000—Double Auditorium—Seating Capacity 450—Roof to be Made of Spanish Metal Tiles. Will be an Ornament to Hilo.

In addition to the numerous improvements to take place in Hilo through Legislative appropriations, that town is soon to have one of the finest churches on the Islands. It will be known as the Foreign Church, and is estimated will cost $13,000.

It will be entirely of wood, except the roof, which will be of Spanish metal tiles. The sides of the building from the roof to the ground will be shingled. The ground plan of the building shows a large church auditorium and a smaller one to be used by the Sunday school, and divided by a rolling partition. The rostrum is in the corner of the auditorium, and when necessary the partition may be raised, and thus the rostrum is almost in the center of one large room. The choir space is at the side of the pulpit.

A gallery is on two sides of the auditorium and may be reached by tower stairs from the front and also at the back. The large room is 40x40 and will seat about 300, while the Sunday school room is 25x40 and has a seating capacity of 150. The ladies' parlor and pastor's study will be in the rear part of the church.

The large porch in front of the building is closed on the right by a cloak room and on the left by the tower projection. As will be seen by the accompanying cut, the design is a beautiful one and reflects great credit upon the architects, Messrs. Ripley and Dickey of Honolulu. Work will begin on the building as soon as the contract is let.

Spreckels' Investment.
A. B. Spreckels has brought suit against John Norman to decide the ownership of certain property in Coos Bay, Ore. Mr. Spreckels alleges in his complaint that he paid Norman $9,500 in cash for the real estate and gave his personal notes for $55,000, payable on July 1, 1896, 1897 and 1898. The first payment fell due on Wednesday, before which time Spreckels discovered that a portion of the property bought by him did not belong to Norman. Judge Slack issued an injunction enjoining Norman from negotiating the notes until the case is heard in court.—S. F. Examiner.

"GIVE UP" NOT IN HER PROGRAM.

Incidents of Kate Field's Last Days Kailua.

HIGH REGARD FOR HAWAIIANS.

As the "Learned Woman" Natives Knew Her—Told Them to Hold Their Lands—Followed Her About. Politics Avoided in Talk With Natives

From Miss Paris, who is now in town, an Advertiser representative gathered the following interesting facts about Kate Field's last week on the Kona coast. It was the last week of her life, and was preceded by the exhaustive overland journey from Hilo.

"Her coming," said Miss Paris, "was announced Sunday afternoon by a native boy, who told me that the learned woman (wahine naauao) was about to arrive. Miss Field seemed greatly amused when I told her of the title. She was always designated by the natives afterwards in the same way."

"Did she see many of the Hawaiians?"

"Yes, she was with them constantly. It was soon noised abroad that she was a friend of theirs, and immediately they became her devoted adherents. When we rode up to the old Thurston premises to see the ruins and the cave we were accompanied by four native policemen and nearly all the boys in the village, some of them carrying lanterns and one of them even carrying a baby. The retinue, including the baby, went through the cave, and when they came out Miss Field stood them up in a row, lanterns too, and had their pictures taken."

"She never lost an opportunity of meeting the Hawaiians," continued Miss Paris, "asking questions and giving advice and showing a friendly interest in them that was unmistakable. Finding that she wished to meet as many as possible, I arranged for her to give an address at a meeting in the old stone church. This service was in memory of Hoapili, a chief and former judge in that district. After the memorial part was ended Miss Field spoke to the natives, Mr. Mueller interpreting."

"Can you remember anything she said?"

"First of all she told them she was
